

EXTENDED PPP SUPPORT FOR LENDING INSTITUTIONS

The passage of the second Coronavirus stimulus package will likely give rise to more PPP applications and customer inquiries. Is your lending institution prepared to handle the overflow in activity from your small business customers? If you need support for daily operations and borrower activity, SolomonEdwards can help.

The Bipartisan-Bicameral Omnibus COVID Relief Deal from December 2020 allocated more funds to the SBA for PPP and EIDL loans, along with funds to address fraud in the program. As we encounter new surges in COVID-19, along with a new administration, more changes are likely forthcoming.

SolomonEdwards' Banking & Financial Services team can quickly fulfill your supplemental resource needs to take the load off of daily operations. Using a rapid deployment and scalable approach, we provide staff augmentation to help you manage risk and exceed customer expectations.

Our team members are available today to:

- Review forgiveness applications from previous loans.
- Process new loan applications.
- Assist with documentation, funding, and booking.

We are not a third-party processor, but instead provide qualified resources to work under the direction of your institution to maximize your customers' borrowing experiences.

Please contact your local SolomonEdwards office for immediate PPP assistance.
